

We are a network of over 20 private-public sector partner organizations with a shared goal of enhancing and expanding ocean education in the K-12 school system in Newfoundland and Labrador

A woman with blonde hair, wearing a red life vest over a black long-sleeved shirt, stands on a wooden boat deck. She is holding a white sheet of paper with diagrams and pointing at it with her right hand. She is addressing a group of about eight people who are sitting on the deck, facing her. The people are wearing various outdoor gear, including jackets, hats, and life vests. In the background, there is a body of water and a blurred boat. A tall, thin metal pole with a white lantern-like structure at the top is positioned behind the woman. A small wooden table with various items on it is also visible.

A group of six people, three men and three women, are walking across a wooden bridge. They are all wearing life jackets in various colors (orange, blue, red). The bridge is made of light-colored wood and has a simple railing. Below the bridge is a river with a large wooden pier supporting it. The background is a dense forest of tall evergreen trees. The overall tone is professional and outdoorsy.
